

REMOTE STUDENTS

Dear Students,

Welcome back to virtual school! We hope you have enjoyed a few days off of school and are excited to start your summer work with Bronx Science this summer!

Bronx Science's summer programs will start at 8:00 AM on Tuesday, July 6th, 2021. Your teachers will reach out to you today or tomorrow to provide you with the Google Classroom, Google Meets, and/or Zoom Meeting links for your class so you can access all class materials and join your remote sessions. You can locate your schedule in PupilPath. If you have not accessed PupilPath, look for an email from Bronx Science Information with your login instructions and code. It is crucial that you login to PupilPath as it will have your grades and your schedule in it.

Attendance

Your daily attendance is important and you will be expected to fill out a daily attendance form that will be sent to your Bronx Science email address. Attendance is crucial for students taking art, music, health and drama classes. These classes are high school level classes and will go on your transcript. You may not be absent. If you are going to miss class, make sure you tell your teachers. More than three absences could lead to a failing grade on your transcript.

Please make sure to check your Bronx Science email often for important information.

Below is the bell schedule that you will follow during this summer:
